Title of the Article:

Abstract

Introduction
What is the purpose of this study? What questions did the researchers seek to answer?

Methodology
Who participated in the study? How many participants? Describe their characteristics for selection. How did the study choose to measure the variables?

Results
List three interesting results from the study.

Discussion
Why is this information important to students? What did you learn from the article? How is this information helpful to you as a student?